Literary & Managerial Society

2023-2024

The society covers a wide spectrum of interests, ranging from organizing various seminars and literary events to debates, competitions, and events that promote holistic development.

JUST A MINUTE

Date: 26th April 2023

Time: 12pm onwards

Venue: BVS Block Auditorium

Footfall: 50 Students

D'Lang Chaps - The literary and managerial society of GTBIT organized an oratory skill-based competition-themed JAM - Just A Minute.

The rules were simple: students picked out a random topic from many topics based on social issues, technological and moral dilemmas, and other captivating topics, and they were given one minute each to think and speak on their given topic.

The event was judged by Dr. Seema Singh, Convener - DLC

The event commenced with great enthusiasm and impressive speeches from the participants. It was truly inspiring to see how opinions could be so different yet so meaningful.

Public speaking exposure in such a unique way gave both the participants and the audience a great platform for holistic development.

Students spoke with incredible grace, confidence, and conviction that it was a pleasure for the audience to attend and be captivated.

Trophies were accorded to the outstanding participants.

The Event was concluded by Gagandeep Singh, Student President- DLC, and the awards were presented by Dr. Seema Singh. Addressing the audience on the occasion, Dr. Seema Singh commended the efforts of all the participants and gave detailed feedback on the performances. She also shared interesting tips and guidelines for enhancing public speaking skills. She also applauded the hard work and the meticulous approach of the DLC student organizers for putting up a great show.

Time: 12pm to 3pm

Venue: BVS Block Auditorium

Footfall: 90

Participants: 20

D'Lang Chaps - The literary and managerial society of GTBIT organized a team-based, skill-boosting competition-themed DUO DASH. It was a fun and exciting event that surpassed the event's scheduled time.

The rules were easy to understand though the competition format was challenging and exciting. As the name implied "Duo Dash", was a duo participation event where participants had to compete as a duo and take it to a logical end.

The event was rule and point-based and every act of the teams was to be carried out under the strict vigil of the event hosts.

Hosted by – Arpit Goyal & Satyam

Scripted and Arranged by – Mansi Bali & Anshita Arya

This was a great event, captivating many hearts and thrilling them with its unique algorithm and syntax. The events started with cheerful and humorous WhatsApp messages from participants, followed by games, acts, and challenges.

The winners of the event were:

Winner: Jatin & Harpal

Runner-up: Ayush & Hemant

HANDS ON LEGACY

Date: 3rd April 2023

Time: 12pm

Venue: Ground

Hands Printed: 45 Students

On 3rd April, The literary and managerial society, DLC. organized a vibrant and engaging event aimed at fostering team spirit, bonding, and encouraging new connections among freshers and senior college students. The event involved participants coloring their hands with paint and printing them on paper.

The primary objective of the event was to create a fun and interactive environment that would facilitate the development of team spirit, bonding, and new connections among the participants. By engaging in the hand printing activity, the organizers aimed to provide a creative platform for students to express themselves and build relationships with their peers.

Event Highlights: The event commenced with a warm welcome from the organizers, followed by an introduction to the hand-printing activity.

The participants were provided with non-toxic paints of various hues, ensuring their safety and comfort. The vibrant array of colors added to the overall energetic atmosphere of the event. The participants were encouraged to mingle with each other, helping create a friendly and inclusive ambiance. To enhance engagement, the organizers introduced icebreaker games and interactive activities, prompting participants to interact with one another while waiting for their turn to participate in the hand-printing activity.

The hand-printing activity itself was about participants dipping their hands into the paints and pressing them onto the paper, creating unique and colorful imprints. This activity allowed participants to express their individuality, creativity, and artistic flair. The use of paper as a medium ensured that participants could keep their imprints as a memento of the event.

Team spirit and bonding were further encouraged through collaborative hand printing, where participants were invited to create group imprints by combining their painted hands. This collaborative aspect of the activity promoted teamwork and camaraderie among the participants.

Jashn-e-Freshers- A Euphoric Welcome

Date: 21st & 22nd September 2023

Time: 11am onwards

Venue: Main Stage

Footfall: 200+

A warm welcome was extended to the freshers of GTBIT during the "Jashn-e-Freshers" gathering, which took place on the 21st and 22nd of September, on the college campus. This event was a collaborative effort of all the societies of the college, each providing a brief orientation and entertaining performances to inspire and encourage the students.

The first day, 21st September, was designated as a casual dress day, with everyone dressed in casual attire. Numerous stalls featuring games and other innovative ideas were set up under the college bridge for the entertainment of students.

One of the main highlights of the day was the "Mr. and Ms. Personality" event organized by D'Lang Chaps, the Literary & Managerial Society of the college, and judged by two of its esteemed faculty members Dr. Himani and Dr. Archana Dagar. The event began with the introduction of the participating contestants.

The selected contestants proceeded to Round 2, showcasing their talents like singing, dancing, stand-up comedy, poetry, and more, with enthusiastic cheers from the audience.

Another elimination round was done as the final contestants proceeded to Round 3 where questions related to general problems of our daily lives were asked. The day concluded with all the students dancing joyfully.

On the second day, 22nd September, an "Ethnic Day" was observed. Everyone came in donning vibrant ethnic attire. Various gaming stalls were put up for both the students and the teachers to enjoy.

As the event grew to a close, the winners of "Mr. and Ms. Personality" were announced: Japandeep Singh and Navjyot Kaur emerged as victors.

DLC Presentation at the launch of GSGC

Date: 3rd and 4th October, 2023

Time: 10am onwards

Venue: Main Stage

Footfall: 110 students

Guru Tegh Bahadur Institute of Technology celebrated its silver jubilee year after the successful completion of nearly 25 years of its journey in imparting knowledge to its students and launched the GSGC on the 3rd and 4th of October.

The event became even more momentous owing to the grand launch and orientation of GTBIT Student Growth Chamber - A Chamber of holistic development 'by the students', 'for the students', and 'backed by founders, CEOs, veterans, and industry experts.'

The event became even more remarkable due to the active and enthusiastic participation of the vibrant student societies of the college. The key highlight of the event was the engagement game conducted by DLC (D'Lang Chaps) - The literary and managerial society of the college.

Team members challenged the students with a list of hard-to-pronounce words and asked them to guess the meaning of those words. Any student who did so perfectly was rewarded with a chocolate.

The games continued and became more fun with certain goofy tongue twisters which made the students and the faculty cackle till their stomachs hurt.

As for the introduction, the DLC student members made the students aware of the proceedings of the society with the help of an interactive presentation. Dr. Seema Singh, the Convener of the society also stepped up on the stage to give a lucid yet effective introduction to society and encouraged the first year students with a literary bent of mind to join it. She also highlighted the efforts being made by the society in the professional development of the students. Dr. Seema Singh also accorded the welcome address to the Freshers during the inaugural ceremony of the Event.

CHAI PE CHARCHA

Date: 17th October 2023

Time: 10am onwards

Venue: Lab block

Footfall: 100 Students

DLC (D'lang Chaps), The literary and managerial society of GTBIT hosted an exciting event that attracted all the book lovers from the college. The event provided us book lovers with all that we love i.e. good books and chai leading us to our personal wonderland. The team worked hard to put together 5 different sections of books (Young adult, thriller, self-help, manga, literature) for the book lovers and a plethora of fun games.

The event started at 10 am and book lovers from around the college visited the event to find a good book. Some enjoyed the company of like-minded people, which in turn led to interesting conversations bubbling in every corner of the room. Others just enjoyed the books with some cute plushies and a hot cup of tea in peace. Teachers too visited the event around the same time and were delighted to see the collection of books that were put together by the team.

Next, in turn, were games such as whisper race, title charades, word-to-word story, guess the dialogue, and word antakshari. The winners got chocolates as a prize. These games resulted in a more inclusive and interactive environment.

The event then took a turn at around 12:30 pm when the silent book lovers revealed their talents. Members and passersby alike took their turns singing songs like mera mann, and channa mereya and then dancing to the tunes of Punjabi music.

The hush-hush of the bookworms, and the silent whispers of the book discussions soon changed into bouts of chuckles and loads of enthusiasm. The event ended on a high note with these performances. This event left everyone talking and not a single soul left the room without a smile and a bag full of memories. All this was possible due to the hardworking and diligent team of DLC.

DISCUSSION & NETWORKING

DESIGNING SEMINAR

Date: 5th March 2024

Time : 10pm

Venue : Online - mode

Exclusively for DLC members

Strong basic conceptual knowledge leads to a strong foundation of learning capacity. Gaining expertise in various fields is an essential part of a student's career. Keeping this thought in mind, the DLC team held a seminar on Designing, exclusively for the society members. The seminar was led by Gursagar Singh.

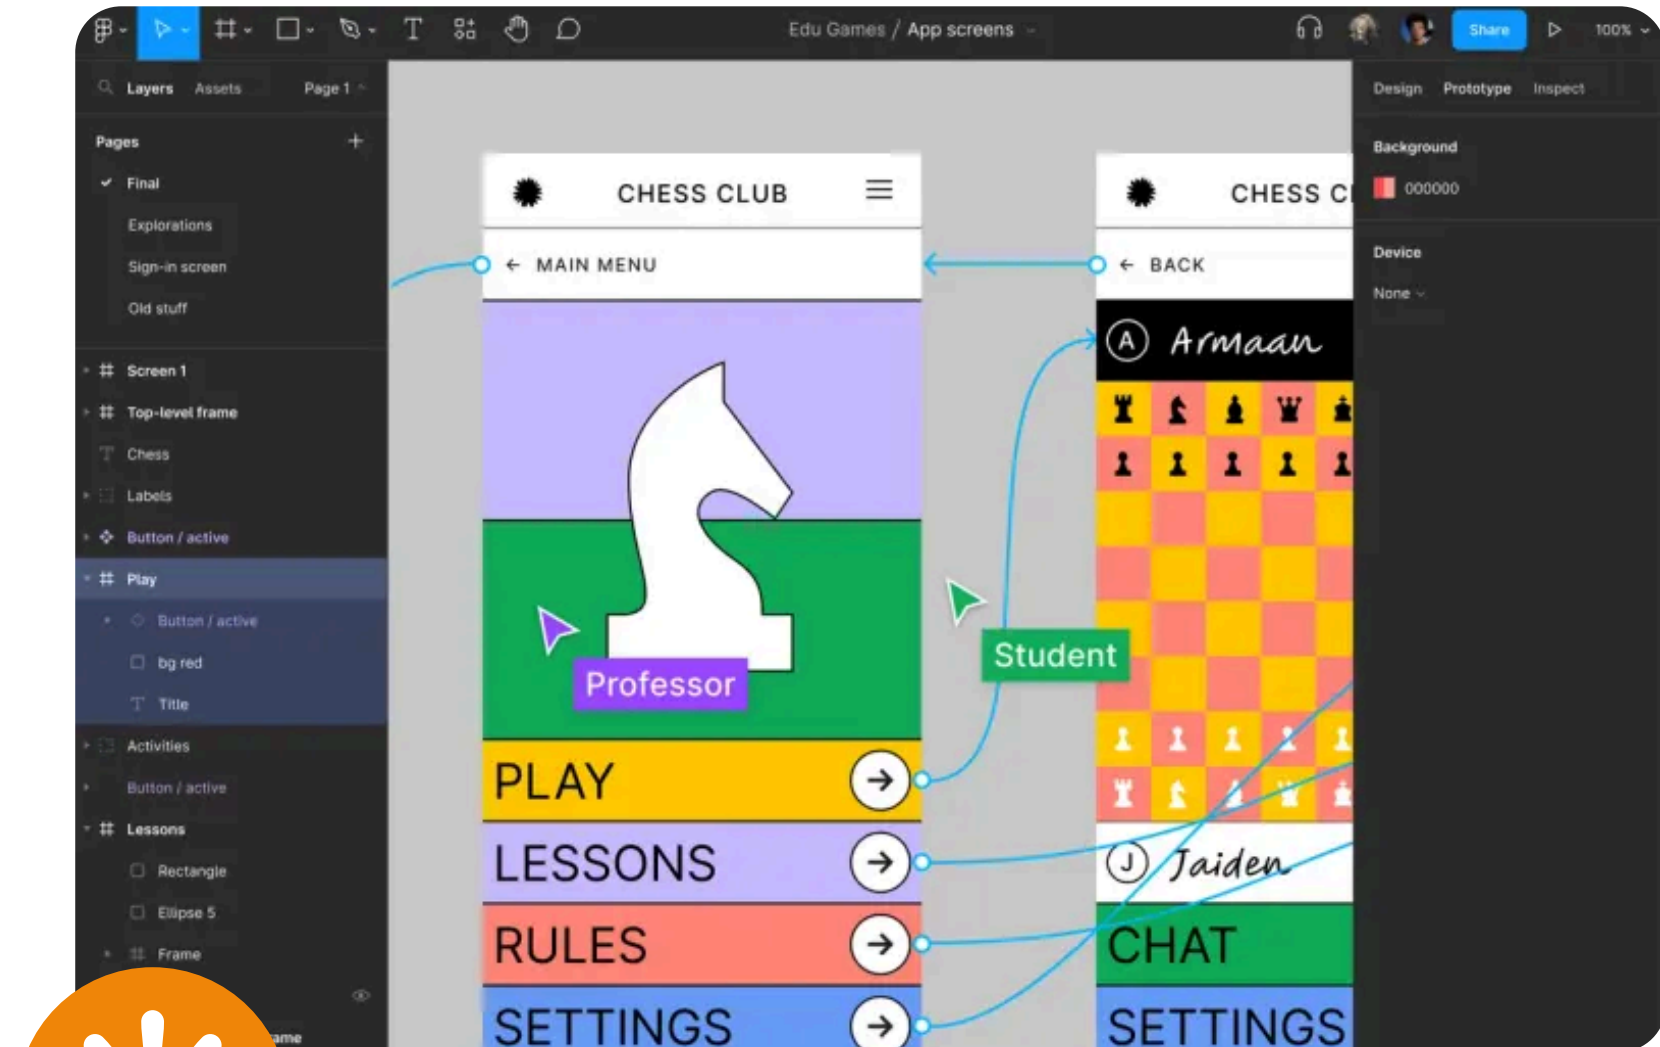

Starting at 10 pm on 5th March, the seminar was conducted in the online mode. It began with the introduction of the designing tool FIGMA which was the topic of the day and it proceeded with the demonstration of the working process of the software by Gursagar.

A self-designed sample by the student expert was taken into account to explain the basic features of the design tool.

Continuous suggestions were taken from the participants while making the design. Participants were allowed to provide add-ons or change/modify some of the things, thus making the workshop more interactive. Everyone was in high spirits as they interacted during the session.

The participants were encouraged to create their own designs for any product that they liked and ask questions regarding any problems they encountered while working.

Within the 1-hour time limit, all the participants, whether a beginner or an advanced, gained valuable insights from the session, learning new techniques and an efficient way of working. It was a knowledge-filled and informative session that enhanced the proficiency of the participants in the field of designing and creating designs in the digital mode. The event was organized to make everyone comfortable with the designing tool so that they could learn as much as they could, making the objective of the seminar successful.

This session was tailored to be highly interactive, fostering an environment conducive to active engagement and collaborative learning.

The session commenced with an overview of event management fundamentals, setting the stage for in-depth discussions on various aspects of planning, budgeting, marketing, execution, and evaluation. Past events were discussed to illustrate key concepts, providing practical insights. Role-playing exercises were done to immerse the students in simulated scenarios, enabling them to apply theoretical knowledge to practical situations and hone problem-solving abilities. Throughout the session, ample opportunities for questions and discussions were provided. Our speakers, Sahib Singh and Kashish Panthri encouraged the students to share their experiences, challenges, and best practices.

In conclusion, the session on event management proved to be a valuable learning experience for all the participants. The interactive nature of the session facilitated knowledge exchange and skill development, empowering members to become more proficient and confident event organizers.

Discussion for election manifesto with the national secretary of BJP

Date: 2nd April 2024

Time: 11am onwards

Venue: North avenue, Presidential estate.

D'Lang Chaps The literary and managerial society of GTBIT attended an interactive discussion hosted by S. Manjinder Singh Sirsa (National Secretary of BJP)

Under the guidance of Dr. Seema Singh, Convener of the D'Lang Chaps, Four students from Guru Teg Bahadur Institute of Technology (GTBIT), Gurmehar Singh Kalra, Amadhya Vats, Hargun Singh Narang and Ishmehar Kaur took part in an interactive discussion hosted by S. Manjinder Singh Sirsa, the National Secretary of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) on April 2, 2024.

The agenda for the discussion was to give suggestions for the election manifesto of the BJP. Under the vision of #ViksitBharat of PM Shri Narendra Modi Ji. Students from Different colleges such as Mata Sundri College, Khalsa College, and other prestigious institutions under Delhi University gave their suggestions as well.

Gurmehar Singh's recommendation to Sirsa Ji was to invite foreign colleges and universities to establish branches in India. It was supposed to be a strategic move to enhance educational diversity and global collaboration within the country's higher education landscape. This initiative aligns with India's efforts to attract top-tier international institutions, fostering academic excellence and enriching the educational experience for students nationwide.

Amadhya Vats recommended easing academic pressure by expanding college options, while Hargun Singh suggested hosting seminars on admission requirements. Implementing strategies like offering support resources and promoting wellness practices can help mitigate student stress and anxiety in academia.

Ishmehar Kaur's suggestion aims to address the availability of seats for the general category in college admissions. This issue requires a nuanced approach, considering the existing reservation policies and the demand for education in various fields.

The journalists from ABP and ANI News interviewed Sirsa Ji about the BJP's manifesto and discussed students' expectations for educational changes, boosting morale. Journalists asked students about the suggestions they gave to Sirsa ji.

MINDFULNESS AND STRESS MANAGEMENT SEMINAR
